

Time flies when you're doing great work!

The old saying, time flies when you're having fun must mean it's been a fantastic term. When students were quizzed about how quickly this term has gone, almost all overwhelmingly agreed that it has flown by. We hope that you have a safe and refreshing holiday and enjoy your time together as a family.

Rainforest Regen...

Have a look at the great regeneration project which has been done in the school rainforest area. This minimally used rainforest area has been transformed into a safe and vibrant place for people to visit and conduct quality teaching and learning. It was a sensational example of how the P&C, school staff, students, community members, Landcare and Coles staff from Tweed Centro all came together to do something spectacular. Individual mention needs to be made to Katrina Semple for her coordination of it all.

Term 4 Dates and Public Holiday!

Term 4 will recommence on Tuesday 8 October 8, 2013. It is an eleven week term and students and staff both return on the Tuesday as Monday is the Labour Day public holiday. The last day of term for students will be Wednesday 18 December, 2013.

Naplan results delayed

ACARA have just notified NSW schools that an error in the placement of national markers on the Year 5 and 7 Language Conventions Test (student data is all correct). This means though the test results will be pushed back until the week beginning October 14. Thank you for your understanding!

Public Speaking

The reports back from Maddison's, Amy's and Mia's efforts at the district Public Speaking finals were outstanding. The three girls represented Bilambil beautifully and Mia in particular was successful in earning an "Encouragement Award" from the judges in the Stage 3 division.

Scripture

This Friday will be the last class based Scripture lessons for the year. We are hopeful of a special Christmas assembly, but believe the trial of Scripture in all grades K-6 this year has been very successful. Students, staff and parents will be asked for their opinion on the value of Scripture in our school through our annual surveying in Term 4. Enormous thanks go to the volunteer Scripture teachers who have worked diligently to create interesting and meaningful learning experiences for the students.

School Safety

We have recently had a couple of acts of vandalism to the school on the weekends. If you see anyone acting suspiciously in our school grounds outside of normal school hours, please call 1300 880 021. Thank you!

No Right Turn!

The photo below was recently sent through to the school from a parent who was disappointed to note that we still have some people not using the Kiss 'n' Drop area correctly. It is illegal, and more importantly, unsafe for people to turn right out of this area. We strongly urge all of our parents utilising this area to use the roundabout past the school to turn around before heading back up the hill.

Fruit and Veg Month

After our delicious taste of different fruits including some amazing new season mangoes and juicy ripe strawberries, today we have switched to vegetables. These were accompanied by an avocado dip to further tempt our taste buds. Next week will be our final tasting day. On Friday morning, the whole school will be heading over to the Jets ground for a fun sport and games morning, run by our Stage 3 students. All students are asked to come dressed in the colour of their favourite fruit or vegetable. At the end of our activities, we will enjoy our last fruit treat for Fruit and Veg Month.

It has been lots of fun for the staff getting together and cutting up the produce each Friday morning and then very rewarding to hear the excitement and anticipation in the voices of our classes as we share our platters. Some students tried fruits for the first time and discovered that they loved them!

Many thanks must go to Mrs Brazel for initiating this project, Mrs Ballarin, for ordering and picking up boxes and boxes each Friday morning and to the staff for their enthusiastic participation. We also need to thank Juddy's in Machinery Drive for supplying our fruit and veg at a very reasonable price.

Paralysis Ticks

We have recently had a student pick up a "paralysis tick" from our playground. Whilst these are quite common, it is important that parents are aware to keep an eye on their children and act appropriately if one is spotted. Current Area Health recommendations are as follows:

Where are ticks found?

There are many species of tick in Australia. The most common tick in New South Wales is the paralysis tick, which is found along the State's eastern coastal strip and inland for about 30 kilometres.

As the majority of the population also lives along the coast, encounters with this tick can be frequent.

Ticks, like many insects, occur in humid, moist bushy areas. Eggs are typically laid in leaf matter or mulch. Ticks are not very mobile but rely on passing animals to both feed on and transport them.

Ticks may appear to drop onto clothing after brushing past bushes or trees or may fall from overhanging branches, especially around clothes lines.

How can ticks affect humans?

Ticks inject a toxin that may cause local irritation or a mild allergic reaction, however most tick bites cause little or no symptoms. In some cases however ticks can pose a serious threat to human health.

Ticks cannot be removed by school personnel.

Parents to remove the tick as soon as possible after locating it. Use fine pointed tweezers and grasp the tick as close to the skin as possible. Gently pull the tick straight out with steady pressure. Avoid squeezing the body of the tick during removal. If you have difficulties seek medical attention. Do not try to kill the tick with methylated spirits or any other chemicals. This will cause the tick to inject more toxins.

Premier's Spelling Bee

Earlier this term, Stage 2 and 3 students participated in the Premier's Spelling Bee. In the competition, students were asked to say and spell words aloud. After each round, those students who had spelt their word correctly, remained in the competition and progressed to the next round. The words increased in difficulty with each round. Well done to all the students who participated. We would like to congratulate the Stage 2 winners: Amy R and Lucy M and the Stage 3 winners: Erin B and Kiana J. These girls will represent our school at the Regional Final this week at Ocean Shores Public School and we wish them good luck!

Our day at Movie World

Yesterday Stage 1 went to Movie World as part of our unit on "Heroes".

First, we had to wake up at 6:00 and it was painful and we left at 7:15. We got there at 8:30 AM. When we got there it was burning hot. We had to wait in the sun for 10 minutes. All the kids were boiling hot and then we finally got through the gates.

The first thing we did was go to a show called, "Lights, Camera, Action". It was a special show that only we got to see. We met some actors including Chris, Tanya and Robert. Then Tanya gave Markus a makeover like a pirate and Robert gave Katie a fake bruise and it looked like an actual bruise. This told us his characters where Shagy in Scooby Doo and Bat man.

After that, we saw lots characters. We saw Lola Bunny, Bugs Bunny, Daffy Duck and Selvester. Tweedy Bird pushed Livinia and Taji out of the way. We got a picture with Daffy Duck, Wonder Women and Bat Man. We didn't see the Joker which was disappointing.

We also went to the Stunt Driver Show. We got to see a funny man called Marty make a lot of funny things happen. We saw lots of cool driving and a car got shot in half. At the end there was a big fireball.

We also went to see the Iceage 4D movie. It was great when the seats went up and down. There were also sprays of water throughout the movie. One was when the dinosaur sneezed at Sid the sloth. It was disgusting.

Finally we went on rides. The main ride we went on was "The Road Runner Rollercoaster". We went on it 2-3 times and it was so fun. On the first time some people were scared.

INSIGHTS

by Michael Grose - Australia's leading parenting educator

Do less, not more, for your kids

With school-aged children we can find ourselves making lunches, getting kids out of bed and cleaning out schoolbags rather than giving these basic tasks of living over to them.

The basic task of parenting, whether you have a two year old or a twenty-two year old, is to work yourself out of a job at the first possible chance.

REDUNDANCY should be the aim of the game! We never become redundant in a relationship sense – the emotional connection between our children and us is never severed.

In a practical, physical way we need to make children less, rather than more, reliant on us.

Developing independence is really about stepping back to allow children in. Doing less rather than more!

We develop greater independence in our kids one job at a time.

Recently I gave my 22 year old son a job that I had been doing for a while. He lives in North America and I had taken on the job of being the connector between him and one of his sisters, who lives in the UK. It had been my job to pass messages on between the two via telephone and emails. I would update each of them about how the other sibling was going.

Frustrated being the go-between I made sure he had contact details and let him know that it was his job, not my job, to connect with his sister.

We easily take on children's responsibilities

It is easy as parents to take on the jobs and responsibilities that really should belong to our children. With toddlers it is so easy to dress, feed and clean up after them rather than give these jobs over to them.

With school-aged children we can find ourselves making lunches, getting kids out of bed and cleaning out schoolbags rather than giving these basic tasks of living over to them.

And as I discovered, it is easy to still do the basics of life for adult-aged children.

TIP NO. 1 for developing independence:

Be clear about who owns jobs or tasks in your family and never take on a child's job, or part of a task, unless there is extenuating circumstances such as illness.

A mother I met recently is very clear on who does what in her home. It is her job to wash the clothes of her early teenage children but it is their job to place them in the washing basket. She doesn't check bedrooms as it is not her job to place kids' clothes in the washing basket.

Okay, I can hear your thought processes. Sounds good but what happens if kids don't give a toss and they don't mind being dirty.

Good point. In this case, this mum has a son who is, to say the least, fairly slack in the area of hygiene. But she didn't become overly fussed about that.

She certainly didn't get fussed when he played a game of football in the wet, muddy jumper that lay in his sports bag for a week. And she happily showed him how to work the washing machine when he wanted his favourite shirt (that he forgot to put in the washing basket) to be washed for a special night out.

TIP NO. 2 for developing independence:

Never be more worried about a child's job than they are, otherwise it becomes your job, not theirs.

This mum remained very clear that it was her job to wash the clothes but not to place them in the washing basket. She would remind kids about washing night, but never nag them to put clothes in the basket. She knows that as soon as she keeps reminding them, it becomes HER job rather than her children's job to put the washing in the clothes basket.

The school holidays provides a good opportunity to reflect on the whole notion of job-sharing. It's also a good time for kids to increase their job load when they are not burdened with schoolwork and extra-curricular activities.

Here's my challenge for you: Think of a job that you regularly do for your child that he or she can do for him or herself. Then step back and enable your child to do that for themselves on a full-time basis. Do less not more for your kids.

If you do that, then you can congratulate yourself as you have moved one step more toward REDUNDANCY.
